

JOIN HEFN

Health & Environmental Funders Network

HEFN is a network of funders supporting work at the intersections of health and the environment. HEFN helps funders learn and work together in support of healthier people, ecosystems, and communities.

GET INFORMATION

E-Newsletter: regular updates on funder calls & events, new science, useful resources

Funder resources: access to funder-only materials on the HEFN website

Funder calls: invitations to participate in HEFN's funder-only conference call series on issues, strategies, and opportunities of high interest

Funder meetings: invitations to join us at funder meetings around the country

Information from peers: opportunities to learn from HEFN's working groups

WORK WITH OTHERS

HEFN supports information-sharing and strategic collaboration among its members in areas of shared interests, such as:

- The HEFN Catalysts for a Healthy Future, a funder collaborative to strengthen grantmaking on chemicals, environment, and health.
- A Working Group on Environmental Health and Environmental Justice to reduce environmental exposures and disparities, promote justice, and build capacity in low-income communities and communities of color.
- A Working Group on Women and Environmental Health to address environmental health issues of concern to women and to strengthen women's roles in the environmental health movement.
- The HEFN-California Chapter to support learning and collaboration among funders doing grantmaking on environmental health and environmental justice in California.
